ACTIVE GARDEN

Gardens by the Bay's new Active Garden is a 10,000 sqm purpose-built green space for people across generations to connect with one another through physical, social and learning activities.

Located along the waterfront promenade facing Marina Bay, Active Garden is a 10-minute stroll from Bayfront MRT station. There is also a shuttle service that connects Bayfront MRT, Active Garden and the cooled conservatories.

There is no admission charge for the public to enjoy its facilities, such as the multi-generational fitness equipment, outdoor musical instruments and two lawns. There will be talks, workshops and events held at Active Garden throughout the year to engage the community.

Active Garden is a barrier-free space and has been awarded the Green Mark Platinum Award.

Visit www.gardensbythebay.com.sg/activegarden for more information.

Facilities at Active Garden

The Waterfront Plaza and classroom are where talks, workshops and events held in conjunction with community partners will take place. A regular series of such activities, both free and with a fee, are planned for Active Garden throughout the year.

There are two lawns for recreation and activities: Moongate lawn (top left) which is named after the Moongate sculpture by Cultural Medallion recipient Chong Fah Cheong that marks the spot of the SG50 time capsule, and Active Garden lawn (bottom left).

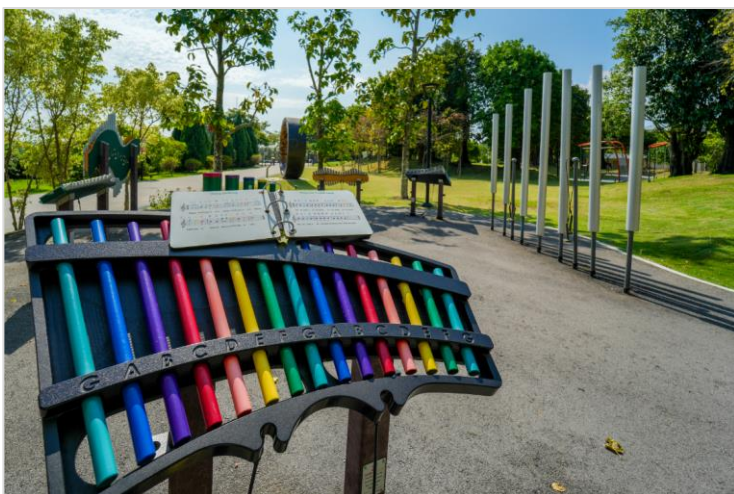

The community garden grows more than 50 types of vegetables, herbs and fruits, from starfruit and long beans to less common edibles like Noni and Bilimbi, and is maintained by 20 Gardens by the Bay volunteers. Horticulturists and volunteers make use of the community garden as a practical example during edibles-themed workshops.

Multi-generational fitness equipment and outdoor musical instruments suitable for visitors of all ages, whether for exercise or for general play.

Mylo's is a pet-friendly cafe helmed by Chef Michael Wilson, that serves pastries, sandwiches and drinks, as well as over 20 seasonal gelatos made onsite.
